REPORT OF THE SUPERINTENDING SCHOOL COMMITTEE, OF UPPER GILMANTON.

DISTRICT NO. 1.

Summer term 13 weeks, whole number of scholars 19, average attendance 17, Miss Mary E. Rowe, teacher. Her first experience in teaching, was deeply interested and labored untiringly to have a good school; but there seemed to be a want of order, which must have in a measure detracted the progress of the school.

Winter term, 10 weeks, whole number of scholars 18, average attendance 18, taught by Miss Mattie Smith, who has the art of interesting her scholars, maintains order, and gives thorough instruction in all branches. The scholars by punctual attendance and close application to their studies made excellent improvement. The interest manifested by the parents did much for the success of the school.

DISTRICT NO. 2.

Summer term, 6 weeks, whole number of scholars 24, average attendance 21, taught by Miss Lourette M. Lamprey, who has had considerable experience in teaching, and is quite successful. The general appearance of the school was good, and the improvement all that could be expected for so short a term.

Winter school 7 weeks, whole number of scholars 23, average attendance 19, Miss Almada M. Forrest, teacher. It would be for the interest of this school to have a male teacher for the winter term.

DISTRICT NO. 3.

Summer term, 6 weeks, Mrs. Emily M. Lamprey, teacher, whole number of scholars 17. There seems to be a lack of interest in this school. The teacher evidently did the best she could under the existing circumstances.

Winter school, 9 weeks, taught by Moses R. Eastman, whole number of scholars 23, average attendance not given by the teacher — Mr. Eastman appeared fully aware that the success of the school depended in a great degree on his exertions, and by perseverance and faithfulness in the discharge of his duties, he succeeded in awakening an interest in all the exercises of the school. Good improvement. The Register was not properly filled, some of the most important items were entirely neglected.

DISTRICT NO. 4.

Summer school taught by Miss Fannie S. Knowles. Whole number of scholars 28, average attendance 23, length of school 10 weeks. Did not visit the school at the commencement. At the close of the term there was evidence of improvement and the classes appeared very well.

Winter school 8 weeks, whole number of scholars 27, average attendance 21.

Good order was maintained, and the improvement was very commendable. The first five weeks were taught by George W. Page, and the remainder by Charles Forrest.

DISTRICT NO. 1.

First term 10 weeks, whole number of scholars 46, average attendance 36, Miss Fannie P. Pearson, teacher. There was much interest manifested by the scholars in their studies, prompt in their recitations and orderly in their deportment.

Miss Pearson is an experienced and successful teacher. Has the faculty of imparting instruction and of holding the attention and respect of her pupils. Her efforts in this school were successful and satisfactory.

Second term 10 weeks, whole number of scholars 41, average attendance 38, taught by David M. Page.

Most of the scholars were well disposed, applied themselves diligently to their studies, and the improvement they made is worthy of commendation.

DISTRICT NO. 2.

First term 6 weeks, number of scholars 12, average attendance 11. Second term 8 weeks, number of scholars 8, average attendance 6. Both terms were taught by Vilona E. Folsome, who seemed to have much anxiety for the standing of the school.

Considering the age of the scholars, and the shortness of the terms, fair progress was made.

DISTRICT NO. 3.

First term 10½ weeks, whole number of scholars 20, average 15.

Second term 11½ weeks, whole number of scholars 19, average attendance 14. Miss Sarah J. Clifford teacher of both terms.

The improvement in reading was excellent, and fair progress was made in all branches pursued.

DISTRICT NO. 4.

Summer term, 7 weeks, whole number of scholars 12, average attendance 10, taught by Mrs. Martha E. Price. Winter term 9 weeks, whole number of scholars 16, taught by Miss Sarah J. Lovjoy.

Both of these teachers were thoroughly qualified, and perfect control of their pupils, and labored earnestly for their advancement and there was decided improvement made by all.

DISTRICT NO. 5.

Summer term, 7 weeks, Miss Sarah E. Gilman, teacher, whole number of scholars 18, average 14. Visited the school at the commencement, but not being notified of his close cannot report the progress made.

Winter term, 11 weeks, whole number of scholars 19, average attendance 17, taught by Vina L. Dickey, whose superior qualifications and practical knowledge of teaching makes her one of our most successful teachers. The improvement made during this term, gave general satisfaction to all as far as I have been able to learn.

DISTRICT NO. 10.

First term, 7 weeks, taught by Mrs. Lizzie R. Cook, whole number of scholars 15, average attendance 13. The teacher gained the good will of her pupils, and the parents were satisfied with her efforts.

Winter term, 7 weeks, whole number of scholars 13, average attendance 12, taught by Miss Mary E. Rowe. The scholars appeared well pleased with the teacher, who endeavored to discharge her duties acceptably to all.

DISTRICT NO. 11.

One term of 12 weeks, whole number of scholars 7, average attendance 6, taught by Miss Edna A. Bean. This school was well governed and substantial progress made by all. The efforts of a faithful teacher are generally successful.

DISTRICT NO. 12.

First term, 8 weeks, whole number of scholars 5, average attendance 4, taught by Miss Hannab Moody.

Second term, 9 weeks, whole number of scholars 7, average attendance 5, taught by the same. The teacher and scholars appeared interested and good improvement was the result.

On a careful review of all the schools under my charge the past year my impression is, that they will compare favorably with those of former years, yet they fall far short of what they might be, if parents would earnestly unite in their support.

I am well satisfied, that the greatest obstacle to the advancement of our schools, is the want of sympathy and interest on the part of parents. Much is said of the responsibility of teachers, but there is a parental responsibility which far exceeds theirs.

How often the complaint by parents, that their children have made little or no improvement; that the teacher is incompetent and unfit to teach, and that he fails to maintain order. But is not sometimes the teacher is wholly to blame? Have you visited your school to judge for yourselves? Have you tried to interest your child at home? and have you endeavored to make him orderly and obedient?

How often the complaint made by children and believed by parents, that the teacher is partial to one or more. These scholars who make such a complaint, are generally lazy, indolent, and disobedient; and to justify themselves, represent the improvement made by the industrious, and obedient to be special favors received from the teacher.

Due allowance should be made for the thoughtlessness and waywardness of youth, but the wide and unruly disposition, often witnessed in the school room, must be attributed, in a great measure, to the influences of home. If children are indulged there, and allowed to regard the commands of their parents with indifference, the same spirit will be manifested in the school room.

Therefore parents, be careful of the home education, visit your schools often; join your influence with that of the teacher in maintaining order, and create a love of learning in your children. Drop all party politics, district quarrels, and sectarian feelings from your school relations; and only support our common cause.

DAN. C. GLASS, Clerk of the Board of Education.
